

Brad Manning

www.mycareerhighlights.com/bradmanning

“I have known Brad since 2004. Brad was Director of Applications Services when I took over the position of CIO at International Specialty Products. Brad continued in that position until 2006 when he landed the CIO role at Quaker Chemical. Brad is an extremely talented IT professional. He is a creative, confident, and competent leader. He builds strong relationships with his customers, his peers, and his staff. He is very driven, consistently upbeat, and truly a pleasure to work with. He is also a skilled negotiator. (Suppliers beware!) Brad already had quite a breadth of knowledge and experience when I worked with him directly – applications and infrastructure. Now that he has been in the ‘hot seat’ for three years, I am sure that he has fully mastered the role and crafted a very effective IT function for Quaker.”

VP / CIO, ISP Corporation

“I worked with Brad for several years while he was at ISP, both as a provider of Human Resources services and as a client of Brad’s Information Services Applications group. Brad is a dynamic and inspired leader who built an outstanding team through careful selection and development. He managed a challenging slate of programs with great agility and regard for quality, always with goodwill and humor. It is a privilege to recommend Brad to anyone concerned with results and business-sensitivity.”

Director, Human Resources, International Specialty Products

“Brad is an excellent person to work with, very knowledgeable in IT area, good sense of urgency and open minded for new opportunities. Besides that, but not less important, he is a person you can trust that will be always fair and loyal with his colleagues and with the company he works on. Wish great success to Brad in his carrier.”

General Manager and Business VP Latin America, International Specialty Products - ISP

“I worked with Brad on a number of key IT initiatives at ISP and his Project Mgmt skills were excellent and resulted in the projects coming in on time, within budget and in line with needs assessment parameters.”

Sr. Vice President North America, ISP

“Brad had the unique ability to understand the user community and communicate with them by simplifying the techie talk common in the I.T. field. He was very creative at problem solving. He was very good to work with.”

Mfg Systems and Tolling Manager, International Specialty Products

“Brad is a people-person who is very understanding and easy to talk to. Brad is always focused on delivering solutions that will help his team, the department and the company meet their strategic goals and objectives.”

Director IT Infrastructure and Customer Service, International Specialty Products

“Brad was instrumental in bringing me into ISP. Brad is a departmental leader that is easy to get along with, willing to listen to ideas, allows his teams to run but provides leadership and guidance along the way. I also enjoyed Brad's abilities to leverage his company knowledge in guiding his teams but also his industry background and depth. Brad is the type of leader that you can learn from while being able to share your experiences at the same time.”

Application Manager, International Specialty Products

“Brad was a True Leader as a Technical Manager and didn't take much time to become a Senior Level manager. He is a Mentor to me. Brad supports his team and motivates them to achieve their professional goals. Brad has a great respect for different cultures. Brad is a multi-talented individual with Technical and Business knowledge at all levels.”

Progress Programmer, Alcatel-Lucent

“Brad was an outstanding consultant and employee. He was one you could always trust, count on to perform, and our clients loved him. I would highly recommend Brad for any position, and would gladly hire him again.”

Owner, Profound Consulting

“The following adjectives describe Brad: Savvy, Flexible, Professional, Equitable, Knowledgeable, Humble, Respectful. I have been servicing hundreds of companies over the past 18 years and I have not met anyone nicer and more pleasant to deal with than Brad.”

Managing Director, Pivotal Solutions, Inc.

“Brad is a very detail oriented professional. He is very experienced at understanding business requirements and translating them into information technology tools the business can use to improve efficiencies and accuracy. Brad provided programming support to a highly visible new order processing system in a very accurate and timely manner. If I were in a position requiring IT expertise I would not hesitate to contact Brad for discussion and assistance. Personally Brad is very punctual, professional and gets along with a very diverse group of people.”

Customer Service (customer care) Manager, Great Lakes Chemical Corporation (Chemtura)